As a courtesy, we accept delayed payment through insurance assignments after you have provided us with all of your insurance information. We will file your insurance for you if you so desire. The balance of your account remains your responsibility, regardless of insurance status. Our office would also be glad to file your secondary insurance if you have one.

Insurance companies do not guarantee payment on claims and they reserve the right to make payments based on their estimation and usual and customary rates. Your particular policy may base it's reimbursement on a fee schedule that is lower than our office schedule. We do our very best to calculate the probable amounts on insurance reimbursements with the information provided by you and your carrier, however, all figures quoted are purely estimates and are not intended to be definite. The totals that we give you in the office are only an estimate of what your insurance will pay.

We cannot be responsible for deficiencies or problems in your individual plans. This is between your employer and your insurance company. We will not become involved in disputes between you and your insurance company regarding deductibles, co-payments, benefits, secondary insurance, usual and customary fees, claim forms, etc., other than to supply factual information. On occasion we will appeal claims on your behalf.

Dental Insurance is NOT meant to be a PAY-ALL. It's meant to be an aid. THERE WILL ALMOST ALWAYS BE SOME OUT-OF-POCKET EXPENSE THAT YOU WILL BE EXPECTED TO PAY AT THE TIME OF SERVICE.

You are ultimately responsible for any remaining balance that your insurance company does not cover or denies to pay.

I understand the above statement and am financially responsible for my account
